

Are You Run Down

Feel all worn out, brain won't work, have no appetite, no ambition, strength or courage—you need Vinol—we guarantee it will help you. Your money back if it don't.

How Vinol made W. F. Searle stronger.

"Your Vinol is certainly a wonderful preparation, one bottle having worked wonders with me. My appetite was gone, nothing tasted good. I decided to try Vinol, and on the second day after beginning to take it I began to relish food again. I have eaten heartily at each meal since, and not only feel stronger, but have made a substantial gain in weight."—W. F. SEARLE, 12 Pierpont Street, Peabody, Mass.

Mrs. S. G. Berry says Vinol is a Great Remedy.

"I was taken with the Grippe one year ago last March, but the cough never left me. I was all run down and did not care for anything or to live. Had two hemorrhages and others slight, but having read what Vinol had done for others I also tried it. I was surprised to notice a change so soon, but it is true. I have taken nearly four bottles and shall get more to take for a while longer. I am not the same person that I was when I began taking Vinol. It surely is a great remedy. It has done so much for me, both for throat and lung trouble, that I wish every one with such trouble would give it a fair trial."—Mrs. S. C. BERRY, High Street, Farm Hill, Middletown, Conn.

Come in and let us tell you about people right here in town who have been restored to health by Vinol. We don't hesitate to guarantee Vinol because we know what it will do.

THE SICK

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. West is sick at his home on Valley street.

Major Elmer E. Blizard is confined to his home with a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

In 1861 only 1,533,000 acres of land were under cultivation in Australia. In 1889 there were over 10,000,000 acres.

ADDRESS

BY PROF. E. P. CHILDS OF NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL

On the Subject of "Loyalty," Delivered Before the Men's Meeting at Y. M. C. A. Sunday.

The men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. was well attended Sunday afternoon to hear the address by Prof. E. P. Childs of the Newark High School on Loyalty. The meeting was one of the most helpful ever held in the Y. M. C. A., the quiet thoughtful words of the speaker leading men to serious thought and much heart searching during the service.

The speaker said in substance: "Men look upon Christianity as a one day religion, something good for Sunday, but not a thing that can be made practical for the every day life of a business man. The speaker pronounced this a mistake, saying the application of the Christian life to the every day life of men of all classes and conditions is a practical truth, as the Christian life and Christian principles were meant to better the condition of both business and social conditions of men everywhere.

The speaker appealed to men to be loyal. Loyalty was the word he sought to impress on the minds and hearts of his hearers. "Loyalty is a word of action, meaning loving service, faithfulness, steadfastness."

Loyalty to self, loyalty to others, and loyalty to God was emphasized. Many men look upon the question of service as slavery; in a sense it is slavery. It is giving up something out of our own life for the good of others, and this the speaker asserted was right, as the greatest blessing and satisfaction that can come to a man is that which comes as a result of doing something for another. The speaker urged loyalty to parents.

Young men should be loyal to mother and father in all their actions and loyal to their children and give them the time and care they have a right to expect. He said some fathers spend so little time at home that the boys and girls in the home do not get well acquainted with their own fathers.

The speaker urged loyalty to God and country. He said many men would go to war and give life for the good of country, who would not stand for right and the good of the community in which they live, would give life for country, but would not give a vote to clean up the ward of their own town, would fight any enemy that would attack the free institutions of our country, but will permit to run wide open the saloon business that is cursing the city of Newark and blasting the happiness of hundreds of our homes. Men should be loyal to their country and community in little things and work and vote for the upbuilding of every institution that will make truth and righteousness stand forth in the lives of men.

RAILROADS.

John S. Price, Wm. Oldham and M. H. Moore, who have been in the office of Superintendent of Maintenance of Way David Lee, at Zanesville, arrived here this morning and entered the office of Division Engineer Charles Vadakin. The force in the office has been engaged today in making some changes in the offices, rearranging the desks, etc. H. B. Barnes, E. C. Smith and Ollie Cable who were also in Mr. Lee's office at Zanesville, went to Garrett, Ind., this morning to go into the Division Engineer's office at that point.

The following Baltimore and Ohio Engineers are on the sick list: Richard Mercer, Elm street; Harry Wilson, East Main street; Wm. Trickey, Dewey avenue; H. McGreery, Andover street; Frank Voight, North Fourth street; James Floyd, Lawrence street.

The following Baltimore and Ohio Firemen are on the sick list: Robert Crisswell, West Church street; Samuel Whistler, Mill street; Wm. Tipton Cedar street; Fred Drapert, Vine street; Edward Kogla, Andover street; Edward Corkins, Eastern avenue.

Mr. J. S. Gillispie, late of Zanesville, has been appointed Assistant Trainmaster of the Central Ohio division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, in addition to his duties as Trainmaster of the O. and L. K., with headquarters in this city.

A. B. Dick, late of Zanesville, has been appointed Assistant Division Engineer of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, with headquarters in Newark.

Brakeman G. W. Karloff of the L. E. division, after having been off duty for a time, has returned to work.

Conductor A. T. Irwin of the C. & N. division, after having been off duty for some days, has returned to work.

Conductor John Atherton of the L. E. division is off on a short leave of absence.

Brakemen M. J. Davis and O. R. Stone of the L. E. division, have returned to work after having been off duty for some time.

Brakemen J. O. McDonald, J. W. Yearlin, R. Schmutz and H. O. Henry have resumed work, after a short leave of absence.

Conductor E. C. Cooper, who has been laying off for some days, has returned to work.

Conductor R. H. Powers has been marked up for duty, after a short absence.

Hand Mashed.

Henry Harris, a well known Pan Handle brakeman, had the misfortune to meet with a very painful accident on Saturday night. He was engaged in switching a number of cars in the East End yards, when his left hand was caught between the bumpers and badly squeezed, although it is thought that amputation will not be necessary. Harris lives in Columbus, and took the next train for that city.

Transportation of Corpses.

Central Passenger association roads have issued a circular notifying their connections that they will hereafter strictly enforce their rule relating to the transportation of corpses. This rule provides that no corpses may be checked unless accompanied by some person paying full fare and without the presentation of one full fare ticket for the corpse. It appears that it has been frequently ignored and that corpses have been checked without being accompanied by anyone or without the payment of a full fare; some have been checked on half-fare tickets.

The Latest Pennsy Engines.

The latest consolidation locomotives built by the Baldwin locomotive works for the Pennsylvania railroad weigh 188,500 pounds, with 168,000 pounds on the drivers, have 22x28 inch cylinders, 36 inch drivers and five boxes 8 feet 11 3/4 inches long by 5 feet 6 inches wide. The boilers are of the Belpaire type with 166.5 square feet of fire box heating surface and 2,677 square feet of tube heating surface, making a total of 2,843.5 square feet. The grate area is 49.11 square feet. The center of the boiler is 9 feet 2 inches above the rail. The tenders loaded weigh about 120,000 pounds, and have a capacity for 6,000 gallons of water and 10 tons of coal.

B. & O. Operator's Fate.

A dispatch from Warren, O., says that Michael Sweeney, B. & O. operator in a target near Niles, was burned to death in his watch tower Saturday night. Train men saw Sweeney writhing in the flames, but were unable to reach him. Coroner Hoover has found evidence of alleged foul play, and it is believed that the man was bound and robbed by thugs, who then fired the building. An approaching freight, failing to get the target, crept down to the tower and the conductor found Sweeney's body entangled in a net work of wires that operate the switches. The condition of the body in the wires gave rise to the theory of murder, but others believe the operator was intoxicated and fell over a stove.

FLEUR DE LIS CLUB.

The Fleur de Lis club was entertained by Corinne Miller on Saturday afternoon, at her home on West Church street. The afternoon was profitably and pleasantly spent with music, games and amusements.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon and the election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Corinne Miller. Vice President, Mona Berg. Secretary, Lenora Phillips.

Some fellows never try to break themselves of bad habits until they are broke.

LYON WILL TELL.

The Captain Has Something Up His Sleeve That He Will Spring Later, and He Says That It Will Be Sensational.

Capt. William C. Lyon, formerly editor of the Newark American, who was recently dismissed by Governor Nash as Trustee of the Dayton State Hospital for the Insane, said in a Sunday talk (Seward Knowles of the institution had assured him that he had made no charges in an interview in Columbus against the former Lieutenant Governor. Said Lyon:

"Knowles telephoned me from Dayton that there was nothing in this interview at all, and that he had said nothing concerning me in any. I am becoming tired of being made a scapegoat in this matter, and feel that I've remained docile long enough, and when the old man once gets started (referring to himself) he will make the fur fly. When the proper time comes I shall have something to say in regard to certain people connected with the State Hospital which will cause a sensation."

When asked if he did not think that right now was the time when the public should be informed he replied:

"I am not quite ready to talk yet, but when I do what I'll say will be a plenty, and it will show up certain appointees of the board in a very sensational light."

Eaton, O., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Bruce Sayres, of this city, who belongs to one of the best families of the county, takes issue with Dr. Ratliff, Superintendent of the Dayton State Hospital for the Insane, on a statement attributed to that official in which he said that "it would be impossible to reflect on the management of the hospital" so far as his work was concerned. Mrs. Sayres is a sister of Miss Emma Bruce, an inmate of the Dayton Asylum. Miss Bruce's mind was impaired by fever some time ago.

Mrs. Sayres charges that her sister has not been properly cared for at the hospital, and that when the girl becomes violent she is merely locked in a room by herself, as Dr. Ratliff, according to Mrs. Sayres, does not believe that violent patients should be restrained.

Mrs. Sayres and other relatives of the girl who have gone to the hospital to visit her, claim that they have found her bleeding from wounds she had been allowed to inflict on herself. They claim that once they found her in an ill-lighted and ill-ventilated room, lying on a bed of straw with nothing for a covering but a sheet. Miss Bruce's back was scarred and bruised, it is said. The nurse informed the relatives that had she known they were coming she would have had the patient in a more presentable condition. When asked why she did not write them about the girl's condition, the nurse is quoted as saying: "We are not allowed to send the scratch of a pen out of this place."

When Mrs. Sayres complained to Dr. Ratliff about the bed of coarse straw, she says he told her: "That is the best the State of Ohio furnishes."

CATHOLICS

MET IN CONVENTION SUNDAY AT COLUMBUS.

Thomas B. Minahan Again Chosen President—Large Attendance. Report of Proceedings.

The Ohio Federation of Catholic Societies met in its second annual convention at the Chittenden hotel Sunday at Columbus. The attendance was surprisingly large, nearly fifty representatives from nineteen different counties being present. At the first convention in 1900 scarcely a dozen counties were represented, and the increase in the membership of the federation is a most gratifying one to its promoters.

The federation held two meetings, in the morning and afternoon. President T. B. Minahan of Columbus presided. Bishop Moeller of the Columbus diocese opened the convention with an address of welcome to the delegates, in which he expressed his hearty approval of the federation and its aims. Several resolutions providing for the further extension of the work of the federation, urging that steps be taken to increase its membership, were adopted. The constitution was revised so that it would meet all the requirements for admission to the American Federation of Catholic Societies organized in Cincinnati last December. The changes were very slight and do not affect the policy of the Ohio federation in any particular.

A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of one vice president in every county, who will push the work of organizing branch societies, so that by the next annual convention every county in the state will be represented. The next meeting of the federation will be held in Columbus in February, 1902. It was decided to hold the annual conventions in Columbus notwithstanding the fact that by the action of the executive committee of the American Federation permanent national headquarters were established in Cincinnati, as it is thought that the central location and excellent hotel facilities of Columbus will secure a larger attendance at the state convention. Late in the afternoon the following officers were elected to serve one year: President, T. B. Minahan, Columbus; vice president, R. P. Burkhardt, Dayton; secretary, Anthony Matre, Cincinnati; treasurer, W. A. Manning, Cleveland. These four officers also constitute the executive board of the federation, and which decides all matters affecting the policy of the organization.

ARIZONA KICKLETS.

The Editor of The Kicker Contributed Some Lively Items of News.

Our horse editor was buried yesterday, and we were glad to see such a large turnout to pay him last honors. It was not his fault, poor man, that he twisted a mule's tail to the right instead of the left. He had been brought up among oxen.

Whip-the-Devil-Jim, the cowboy evangelist, was in town the other day to look the ground over with a view to holding a series of meetings this winter. We know Jim to be full of pluck and fight, but if he sets out to tackle Satan around here he will want to keep his coat off all the time.

NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J.

A City Admirably Situated With Many Natural Advantages.

BUILT UP BY ENTERPRISING CITIZENS.

Good Transportation Facilities To All Sections—Has Excellent Schools, Churches and Societies—Newark Is a City of Today.

Newark is a city of today; a growing, busy and prosperous exposition of American progress. Sound in its history and mature in every phase of development that makes modern cities. Fifty years ago it was nothing but a village. Today it is a magnificent city with a population that may safely be estimated at 20,000. A mighty center of commerce, a place of many manufactures, education and refinement. It has a vast railroad traffic; it has a business life which supports strong banking and other financial institutions; tree public library, fine parochial schools, hospital, fine church edifices, modern public school buildings, public Auditorium, opera house, excellent hotels, beautiful parks, etc. Newark is a clean, healthy admirably built and well governed city; with handsome public buildings, and business edifices; comfortable homes which include many beautiful residences; well paved and shaded streets; electric street and interurban railways, automobiles and all the latest and most approved conveniences of city life. For further particulars and reference to the leading manufacturing, commercial and financial houses of the city, we respectfully commend the reader to a perusal of the review published in this issue of The Advocate.

The Franklin Bank Co.

Indicating in a marked degree the progressive spirit of Newark's commercial enterprises, and reflecting at a glance their healthy growth and solidity, are the banking interests of the city. There are few cities more favorably circumstanced in respect to banking transactions, and none in which the institutions representing the banking business stand on a higher plane. Among the city's most popular financial institutions is the Franklin Bank Co. whose record since the day it was established in 1845, has been one of the most creditable and honorable. The Franklin Bank Co., which was incorporated under the state banking laws of Ohio in January 1894, has a capital of $100,000. A general commercial bank business is transacted and every department of this banking institution is efficiently supervised. The officers of the bank are: D. C. Winegarner, president; S. S. M. Hunter, vice-president; W. A. Robbins, cashier; Geo. B. Sprague, treasurer, and C. H. Spencer, secretary. They are all representative business men of the highest standing, and under whose able guidance the bank is making rapid and substantial progress. The Franklin Bank is a popular bank, its methods, though conservative are such as to aid customers in all legitimate ways, and the thorough business system is appreciated. The policy of the bank is one of liberality blended with judicious conservatism in the application of the principles of mercantile law; and the administration of its affairs by its officers invites public confidence because of their long identity and thorough representation in Licking county affairs and their popularity and sterling integrity.

Peoples National Bank.

The character and standing of the financial institutions of a locality from a basis from which we can accurately estimate the genuine worth of a community is its progress, stability and business enterprise. This being true, the city of Newark is particularly favored, for in the Peoples National Bank we have an institution that will compare favorably with all things considered, with any in the state. The Peoples National Bank was established in 1884, and has a record of 18 years of honorable and successful business efforts. It has a capital of $150,000 with surplus of $50,000 and is one of the strongest banking houses in this section of the state. This old reliable concern transacts a general banking business in its various departments, and affords its patrons every convenience and facility consistent with sound and conservative banking methods. It has ever been a favorite with the business world, its unusually extended deposits are largely those of active merchants, while it discounts much of the most desirable commercial paper in the market. The officers of the bank are representative and prominent business men, whose names are synonymous with integrity and whose interests are allied with the growth and prosperity of the city, and there is no fiscal institution in the city which enjoys greater confidence, or whose management is more signally prudent and sagacious. The officers of the bank are: B. Franklin, president; J. M. Maylone, cashier; and H. J. Hoover, asst. cashier. The directors are: B. Franklin, I. B. Wint, M. Q. Baker, W. W. Wehrle, T. M. Edmiston, G. W. Havens, W. L. Prout, E. M. Baugher and J. M. Maylone.

Henry Sayre.

One of the most important adjuncts to the building trade is that of the plumbing industry. And, right here it is worthy of note, that nothing is more essential to all well regulated communities, than a good plumbing shop. For, upon the health and happiness of many persons daily depend. In the establishment of Mr. Henry Sayre located at No. 49 North Third street, the people of this city and vicinity possess a first-class plumbing shop and in the proprietor a gentleman thoroughly practical and experienced in the trade of plumbing and gas and steam fitting. Mr. Sayre has been established in Newark for a number of years and the many jobs of fine plumbing which he has executed is ample evidence of the skill and care which he exercises in the conduct of his business.

John J. Carroll.

The dry goods and notion trade in its various departments has no more able and enterprising exponent in the country than the well known house of John J. Carroll of Newark. Close application to the business and a talented appreciation of the wants of the public combined with honorable dealing and thorough integrity in all transactions, are the basis upon which this house has built up its splendid reputation and immense business. The stock carried at this house is selected from the leading houses of Europe and America, and includes dry goods, notions, silks, dress goods, suits, cloaks and fur garments, underwear, linens, gloves, hosiery, ladies' furnishings, carpets, lace curtains, draperies, etc., in fact everything usually found at a first class and exclusive dry goods store. Both interior and exterior of this establishment make one forget the bustling, busy city of 20,000 inhabitants, and we imagine that some old eastern city has had the establishment plucked ready-made. If we were asked what from its center and set up in our city was the most striking feature of this emporium, we would say the most perfect system of organization observable. Discipline is here seen in the most appropriate form—under the beneficent rule of an employer who seeks his employees welfare jointly with his own. The house is a direct importer and a direct buyer every where; the choicest products of the loom are here side by side with the products of the skilled artificers of all lands. Not only is the stock the largest and most comprehensive, but it is the freshest in assortment and choicest in quality of any in the city which, combined with able management, emphatically places this establishment far in the van of progress when the purchasing power of the dollar is the greatest quality considered. In conclusion it is but just to state that Mr. Carroll is a merchant of the highest standing in financial and commercial circles and is highly esteemed both as a business man and private citizen.

The Newark Savings Bank Co.

One of the most creditable and interesting histories of steady progress in a financial way is that of the popular Newark Savings Bank Co. The bank was established in April 1890 and has proved during its honorable career one of Newark's most reliable financial bulwarks. It occupies commodious and splendidly equipped bank-rooms in the Hibbert & Schaus building, at No. 10 East Park Place. Its quarters here are without exception among the finest and most tastefully fitted up in this section of the state, and reflect the highest credit on the taste and good judgment of the officers and directors. In fact, the bank's equipment throughout is equal to the best to be found anywhere; every safeguard and convenience being provided, including massive steel fireproof vaults—the only safety deposit vault in the city. The bank has a capital stock (paid up) of $75,000 with average deposits of $122,000 and resources of upwards of a quarter of a million dollars. The Newark Savings bank transacts a general banking business, receives the accounts of banks, corporations, firms and individuals upon most favorable terms, issues bills of exchange on all foreign countries, makes collections at all points and affords its patrons every convenience consistent with a safe and conservative policy. The benefits to a community from such an ably conducted institution as the Newark Savings bank are incalculable, and hard to overestimate. This bank has been and is an encouragement to mechanics, clerks, laborers, and others to save their money and furnish the business community with every facility and convenience for the prompt transaction of a commercial banking business in its various departments. The officers and directors who are among the prominent and leading business men of the city, are L. P. Schaus, president; R. Scheidler, vice-president; J. F. Lingeteller, cashier; Wm. E. Miller, treasurer; W. C. Tafel, secretary; Wm. Christian and Z. T. Duer. These gentlemen are among Newark's most substantial and representative citizens. Mr. Lingeteller, the efficient cashier, has been identified with this bank since it was organized, and is recognized as an able exponent of sound banking methods.

Home Building Association Co.

The building associations of the world must always take a prominent place as institutions beneficial, practical and indispensable to the present state of civilization. The building and loan system has for many years been a positive force in the progress of the modern civilization and the accumulation of national wealth. It has long been an important factor in the education of every community, influencing its people in the habits of economy and prudence. In this connection we are pleased to note the fact that Newark is the home of one of the largest and most representative building associations in the state. We refer to the Home Building association company established in 1880, whose office is located at No. 26 South Third st. Since its organization "The Old Home" has, with each year, shown a marked increase in every essential feature productive of solidity and strength. Its assets on Jan. 1, 1902, were $620,000; loans in force, $397,550; and receipts for 1901, $520,000. The assets show an increase of over $100,000 for the year. As an evidence of the value of the Savings feature, we mention that 482 new deposit accounts were opened during the year, exclusive of loans. The fact that large accessions are continually made to this association without resort to other than the most legitimate measures is conclusive evidence of the estimation in which this staunch and ably conducted institution is regarded by the public and shows that shrewd and prudent people are becoming more and more convinced that a membership in such an association as "The Old Home" of Newark, affords not only the safest, but one of the most profitable investments that can be made. For further particulars call or address E. M. Baugher, secretary, 26 South Third street.

The Jewett Car Company.

The importance of Newark as a desirable manufacturing point is forcibly illustrated by the flourishing existence here of such an immense establishment as that of the Jewett Car company. The company, which was established in 1897, at Jewett, Ohio, removed to Newark two years ago. This enterprising concern may well be cited as an example of rapid growth and expansion of American industrial establishments. The business was started with 35 hands, and in the short period of five years, has been increased to three hundred and fifty workmen. Its plant, located in the western portion of the city covers an area of ten acres, and is without any exception, one of the best equipped of its kind in America—containing the latest improved machinery and appliances known to this branch of industry. The Jewett Car company can be fairly described as one of the strongest factors in the city's industrial affairs, for its product—Electric, Suburban and Elevated cars—not only reaches a world-wide market, but the name makes Newark known everywhere to a degree no other enterprise here does, and their own growth is intimately allied with the city's to just the extent of their conspicuous success. The officers of the company are: W. S. Wright, president; Paul O. Reymann, vice president and secretary; A. H. Sisson, general manager and treasurer.

F. Lisey.

The importance of Newark as a great wholesale center for the import and domestic fruit and produce commission trade is forcibly illustrated by a review of one of the leading concerns engaged in the business here. We refer to the representative and well known house of F. Lisey, whose warehouse and salesroom are located at Nos. 11-13 South Fourth st. Mr. Lisey who has been engaged in business in Newark for the last 20 years has been established as a wholesale commission merchant since the early '80s and sustains an excellent reputation as a reliable and honorable business man. He has had a thorough experience in this branch of trade and through the vigor, with which he has applied himself to the direction of his affairs, his trade has grown apace, making this house one of the most prominent of this kind in this section of the state. This house is a receiver of and markets annually immense quantities of foreign and domestic products embracing oranges, bananas, apples, potatoes, cabbage, melons, peaches, grapes, etc.—a leading specialty being the handling of California oranges, bananas, and sweet potatoes in car lots. In this connection it is worthy of note that Mr. Lisey handles more potatoes than any three firms in the city. In addition to a large local patronage the trade of this house extends throughout a radius of 75 miles of Newark.

Consumers Brewing Co.

In the whole history of manufacturing enterprises there is nothing more interesting or remarkable, than the growth of the brewing interests of the United States. For many years it was asserted that first class lager beer could not be brewed in America. Our leading brewers have however, entirely destroyed such a senseless idea by producing beer quite equal in purity, flavor and quality to the best brewed in the old country. As proof of this statement, reference is here made to the well known Consumers Brewing company, of Newark. Every connoisseur of good larger beer, in this vicinity, knows that the Consumers brewery produces the genuine article a high grade larger beer—guaranteed absolutely pure and wholesome. Only the best malt and hops are used at the Consumers Brewery, which has an annual producing capacity of 30,000 barrels of beer. The storage accommodations of this brewery are quite extensive, so that the product is not hurried from the vats to the consumer, but is retained in cool cellars until of proper age—which accounts for its flavor and general uniform quality.

The plant which is located at Locust and First streets, was built in 1897 (having been remodeled from the old Blandy Machine Works) and represents all of the latest improvements in architectural construction and equipment of modern machinery and appliances known to the brewing industry. The plant includes brewery proper, engine and boiler house, machine house, wash house, bottling house, ice manufacturing department, stables, sheds, yards, office, etc., the plant being compactly arranged affording 52,000 square feet of floor space. The brewery is a model of neatness, cleanliness and expert management, and in these respects has no superior in the entire country. The "U. S. Pale" and "Consumers," brewed by this company, are strictly high grade beers—and can be had both on draught and in bottles at the leading dealers throughout the city and surrounding towns. The business of this popular brewery has been constantly increasing, while it may be truthfully stated that an inferior grade of lager is never permitted to pass its gates. Leading experts pronounce the "Consumers" beer to be pure and healthful, of mild tonic properties, nourishing and invigorating, stimulating the appetite, greatly aiding digestion, and just the thing for table and general use. The officers of the Consumers Brewing Co. are: Chas. Andre, president and general manager and J. A. Kremer, secretary and treasurer; W. P. Young is bookkeeper, Harry Russell is agent for the company, and Chas. Vogelemeier is manager of the ice plant—which has a daily capacity of 20 tons of ice, made from pure distilled water. In conclusion it is but just to state that the above named gentlemen are numbered among the reliable business men of the city and the Consumers Brewing company is a credit to Newark.

Strawn Bros.

The wholesale fruit and produce trade is creditably represented in Newark by several reliable concerns. The firm of Strawn Bros. composed of W. D. and John Strawn has been established for the last six years and may be cited as an able and honest exponent of this branch of trade. Messrs. Strawn Bros. have gained an excellent reputation for reliability and business probity in all transactions. They are wholesale dealers in foreign and domestic fruits and produce, including oranges, lemons, bananas, melons, potatoes, cabbage, onions, apples etc.—a fact every coming under the head of fruits and produce. Their warehouse and salesroom are located at No. 15 South Fourth street. The firm enjoys every facility and convenience for the proper storage of its products and for promptly filling all orders. They sell at the lowest ruling market prices and as before stated sustain an excellent reputation as straightforward and honest business men.

The Newark Machine Co.

When one considers the giant strides that Newark has taken during the past decade, in both commerce and manufactures, he must needs admit that not only have the city's natural advantages and resources been factors in her greatness, but that the indefatigable energy, shrewd foresight, and abso- self-confidence of her leading manufacturers have formed the solid and permanent basis of her steady growth. The Newark Machine Co. is a bright example of this truism. This company, organized by J. P. McCune, president; W. A. Robbins, vice-president; F. S. Wright, treasurer; and E. C. Sharpe, secretary, was established 50 years ago, and its career has been at once remarkable, impressive and lasting in its every undertaking. The company's plant, located at 16th street near the Pennsylvania and B. & O. lines, is commodious, compactly built, and splendidly equipped throughout, occupying 5 acres. Every department of this model plant is under the supervision of an expert, while a force of 75 skilled workmen are employed. The company is manufacturer of the famous Victor Clover Huller New Imperial Straw Stacker, Miller Manure Spreader, and Newark Fanning Mills. The product of this representative and progressive concern is held in high repute and is sold all over the United States and also foreign countries. The Newark Machine Co. may well be cited as a proof of Newark's power in commerce; and the energy and enterprise this concern displays is evidence that the Buckeye manufacturer can hold his own in any market he enters.

Newark Iron and Steel Co.

A review of the industrial interests of Newark discloses the fact, that the city possesses establishments, which in the respective lines, that they represent, are recognized as leading and representative exponents of their branch of trade. A notable instance is the subject of this sketch. The Newark Iron and Steel Co.—well and favorably known as manufacturers of high grade open hearth steel castings, forging steel, high pressure and hydraulic fittings and oil well supply specialties. The enterprise which has been established only for the past three years is rapidly expanding and developing in a most gratifying manner, a force of fifty hands being employed at the present time. The plant, which occupies 9 acres of ground, is perfectly equipped and thoroughly up-to-date in every respect. The officers of the Newark Iron and Steel Co. are Wm. E. Miller, president and J. R. Goldsborough, secretary, treasurer and general manager, and Samuel Morris, superintendent.

The McNamar Machine Works.

The McNamar Machine Works is among the oldest industrial enterprises of Newark, the business having been established in 1867. Mr. Julius J. D. McNamar, the proprietor of the McNamar Machine Works is successor to John H. McNamar, formerly Scheidler & McNamar. As a builder of high grade Portable, Stationary and Traction Engines and Circular Saw Mills, Mr. McNamar has achieved a national reputation for his products, which embrace all of the latest improvements that have been perfected in this class of machinery in recent years. The office and works located, opposite Pan Handle R. R. Depot, occupies 125x200 feet of ground. An average force of 40 skilled mechanics is employed throughout the various departments. The equipment of machinery and appliances throughout the plant is most elaborate—in fact these works are thoroughly up-to-date as regards modern machinery and improvements. In this connection it is worthy of note that Mr. McNamar leaves nothing undone to maintain for these works the enviable reputation of being the best equipped and most complete of its kind in this section of the state, this enterprise being numbered among Newark's most valuable industrial and skilled manufacturing factors.

Sites & Kellenberger.

No detailed account of the manufacturing industry of this city would be complete, without mention of its milling interests. The above named firm composed of Messrs. T. H. Sites and Wm. Kellenberger are proprietors of the Newark mills, which have been in operation since 1881. The mills, are equipped throughout with the latest improved roller process machinery and appliances known to the trade and have a daily capacity of 125 barrels of flour. Messrs. Sites and Kellenberger are manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in "Patent Roller Flour," choice wheats, corn, screenings, mill feed, grain, meal, chop, etc. The firm sustains an excellent reputation as a producer of choice winter wheat flour, its product being held in high repute by the best class of trade throughout this section of the state. In fact, Messrs. Sites and Kellenberger are noted for manufacturing and handling only the best class of products and the first class patronage, that is accorded to the firm testifies in no uncertain voice to the high appreciation in which this popular concern is held by the trade and general public.

Frank F. Fee.

A commercial review of Newark demonstrates beyond a doubt, that the city is making rapid and substantial progress in the development of its various industrial interests. The lumber trade is especially well represented here. In this connection we refer to Mr. Frank F. Fee, maker of quartered oak lumber, chair, wagon and car stocks, whose splendidly equipped plant including a modern band-saw mill, occupies six acres of ground on Sixteenth street adjoining the Pennsylvania and B. & O. lines. Mr. Fee was formerly located at Lima and moved to this city last May—adding to Newark's manufacturing interests a most valuable and important industrial factor. The daily output of this plant is 25,000 feet of quartered oak, besides a large amount of ash, poplar and hickory. Mr. Fee employs in his various operations a force of 200 people of which 65 are residents of this city. Mr. Fee stands deservedly high in financial and commercial circles and is highly esteemed as a business man of sterling integrity and honorable principles. Mr. Fee is the heaviest producer of native, hardwood lumber. He is necessarily a large buyer in the local market, which is very much appreciated by farmers and others having choice, large white oak to sell, as Mr. Fee pays out thousands of dollars for this class of timber, and at prices which are an inducement to the owners of timber in this locality.

Daniel Altshool.

The consumption of liquor in the United States is so vast, that the trade necessarily involves considerations of the greatest importance. Among the oldest and most reliable wholesale wine and liquor dealers in this section of the state, extensively engaged in this steadily growing business is that of Daniel Altshool, whose cellars and warehouse are located at No. 23 South Third street. This house presents a striking instance of what can be accomplished by a steady application to business and a liberal and honorable course in its dealing. Mr. Altshool, who has been established since 1884, has always been the most persistent advocate of selling the best goods, and has aimed always to carry a general line suitable to the wants of the best class of trade. Being importer and buying on the most extensive scale, everything is secured at the lowest figures, he thus being enabled to dispose of his goods to the trade at a lower price, than those, whose transactions are not so extensive. This house makes a specialty of whiskies in bond and imported liquors—a leading brand handled being the famous Licking Club Rye. Mr. Altshool deals extensively in fine wines, liquors, and imports direct brandies, gins, rums, ports, Rhine wines, sherries, etc., catering to the best trade, an immense stock being carried.

Fourth Street Planing Mill.

Much of the industrial energy of Newark is maintained by the demands of the city itself, for it is a big and growing city, full of the progressive spirit and it requires the best of everything. This represents constant business for concerns such as the Fourth Street Planing Mill Co. manufacturers of all kinds planing mill work, hard wood finish, veneer doors, etc., whose office and factory is located at corner Fourth and Canal streets. With a well equipped and up-to-date manufacturing plant and the best skilled labor employed in all its departments, the Fourth Street Planing Mill Co., turns out a character of work, which is highly creditable to its management and amply demonstrates that this city possesses establishments, which are able exponents of the branches of trade that they represent. The management of the Fourth Street Planing Mill (which was established in early 60s), is in charge of Fred Jones and Jasper Jones, who are practical and experienced men in this branch of trade. Jones Bros. give close personal attention to the management of the business, which they conduct upon broad and liberal methods. They carry a complete line of hardwood lumber, bill stuff and bridge lumber cut to customers order.

McCune-Crane Hardware Co.

The predominating cause of the success and growth of Newark's commercial interests is the fact, that the city contains within its confines many enterprising business men, who are practical and experienced in the various branches of trade, and lend all energy to keep in motion the unyielding wheel of commerce. The business of the McCune-Crane hardware Co., has been established in their present enterprise for the past 40 years, and is recognized not only as an able enterprising exponent of the hardware trade in its various departments, but as one of the most honorable and reliable of houses. The business premises at No. 11 South Park Place comprises a three story building, 20x200 feet in dimensions. As a matter of fact, everything about the establishment indicates that it is strictly a first-class hardware house, and is conducted on the most advanced and modern methods. An extensive business is transacted and the stock carried is one of the largest and most comprehensive—embracing shelf and builders' hardware of all kinds, tools, cutlery, paints, oils, varnish, glass, guns, pistols, ammunition, etc., including also a heavy stock of iron steel, wagon stock, carriage goods, and building materials. The members of the firm are Messrs. J. H. McCune, O. W. Crane and C. M. Bliss. Mr. McCune has been identified with this house since its inception, forty years ago. The business of this house is conducted upon liberal and broad-gauged methods, and that this is appreciated is evidenced in the gratifying growth and expansion of this popular establishment.

Miller & Struble.

Those contemplating either the sale or purchase of property, or transaction in realty of any description, will find in Messrs. Miller & Struble, whose office is located at 14½ North Second street, gentlemen well qualified to advance their interests. The firm has been permanently established in the real estate, loan and insurance business in Newark for the past five years, developing an influential connection and carrying through to a successful issue many important transactions. Intending investors are guided by Messrs. Miller & Struble's experience and intimate knowledge of the market, can rely upon securing properties that will return a handsome income and just what they most desire. This firm is prepared to buy, sell, lease and exchange properties of all kinds, collect rents and interest, pay taxes, negotiate loans on bond and mortgage, do conveyancing, examine titles and take acknowledgment of deeds, also take entire management of estates and place insurance risks in all first-class fire insurance companies.

George Markley.

The above house, established 42 years ago has the distinction of being the pioneer furniture store of Newark. Mr. Markley is hardly necessary to add is one of Newark's old reliable and respected business men, and has always conducted his business in a straightforward and honorable manner. Mr. Markley as before stated has been established in business in Newark for 42 years. He was formerly engaged in the furniture and undertaking business but for the past few years has discontinued the undertaking business and now conducts a furniture business exclusively. His business premises located on the South Side of the Square, comprise a commodious warehouse containing three floors. It is a fact worthy of note in this connection, that Mr. Markley has ever adhered to the Golden Rule. In other words, he handles only strictly reliable furniture goods, which he can conscientiously recommend and sell at the most equitable prices.

E. F. Collins.

A popular and reliable mercantile emporium in Newark is that, so ably conducted by E. F. Collins, optician and jeweler, located in the Y. M. C. A. building. Established in business in this city for the past three years, Mr. Collins has gained the esteem and confidence of the community as a strictly upright and honorable business man, and who is noted for his fair and liberal methods. Mr. Collins is a thorough, practical and experienced optician and jeweler and conversant with every feature of the business. The stock carried at this popular emporium embraces fine gold and silver watches both in ladies and gentlemen's sizes; diamonds and other precious stones, jewelry, including rings, lace pins, buttons, studs, charms, bracelets, sterling silver novelties, etc., in large variety and in the latest designs are shown. In solid silver and silver plated ware, this house shows a nice assortment in good suitable for wedding presents, such as knives, forks, spoons, tea sets, water sets, cake baskets, butter dishes, card baskets, opera glasses, etc., in large selection and in designs not duplicated by any other house. Prices here are always as low as the lowest and all goods are fully warranted. Special attention is given to fitting of glasses, whilst fine watch repair work is executed in a first-class manner.

Mitchell, Van Atta & Co.

The popular firm of Mitchell, Van Atta & Co., clothiers and men's furnisiers at 14 East Park Place is the leading emporium of its kind in the city. Owing to the superior quality of goods handled, as well as by the enterprising and liberal business methods prevailing the firm enjoys a large and constantly increasing patronage among the best class of local and transient trade. Their handsome store is fitted up with modern improvements, and presents a neat and tasteful appearance. The stock is large and comprehensive and includes the choicest productions of fine, tailor-made clothing, which have been carefully selected to meet the requirements of a first class trade. The stock embraces all the latest and most seasonable effects in gentlemen's furnishings, and hats in all the latest blocks. As a matter of fact everything about this store is up-to-date the entire stock having been put in new at the time the business was established April 1 1901. Mr. L. M. Mitchell the resident partner has charge of the management and conducts the business upon broad, progressive and modern methods.

Chas. L. Conrad.

A careful review of the mercantile interests of Newark discloses a class of houses prepared to compete, in the several lines that they represent with the largest concerns of the country. Their complete stocks, ample resources and remarkable enterprise are matters of which our citizens have every reason to be proud. Among the business houses of Newark that have kept pace with the city's growth and progress is that of Chas. L. Conrad, grocer and shipper of fruits and vegetables, whose elegant emporium is located at No. 35 North Third street. It needs but a glance at the interior of this establishment to convince one that it is thoroughly up-to-date and conducted in a modern and a persistent advocate of handling only has been established here since 1883, has built up his splendid reputation and business through the exercise of honorable methods coupled with good business ability. He has always been an ardent advocate for handling only the best class of food products—his motto being: "Not how cheap but how good." Mr. Conrad's establishment is leading headquarters for pure food products—including fine teas, coffees and spices, canned goods and table delicacies of every description: pickles, preserves, imported and domestic cheese, etc. A leading specialty of this popular house is fine high grade coffees—representing the choicest blending of Mocha and Java, and which are unsurpassed for purity, aroma and general uniform excellence.

The Allison Company.

The above well known concern has established an excellent reputation among the leading business houses of this city. The Allison company is leading headquarters in this section of the state for lace curtains, chenille and tapestry curtains, table covers, rugs, etc., also leaders in wall paper and wall decorations, books, lamps, periodicals, stationary, etc. Only the best class of goods is handled by the Allison Company, which is patronized by a wise and discriminating trade both in this city and surrounding country. The emporium of the company located at No. 14 North Second street, is among the best appointed salesrooms in the city—containing as it does the choicest productions of some of our European and American manufacturers. The business management is in charge of Mr. Amos Harrold, a gentleman well and favorably known, at whose hands all customers will receive a cordial welcome, and be treated in a fair and honest manner. Mr. Harrold brings to bear a wide range of practical experience in this branch of business.

Chas. U. Stevens.

The leading headquarters in Newark for strictly reliable bargains and implements is the establishment of Chas. U. Stevens located at 40 South Second street. Mr. Stevens represents some of the largest and most noted agricultural implement concerns in the world. He is the accredited agent for the famous McCormick Mowers and Binders, Imperial Plows, John Deer Cultivators and Planters, Moline cultivators and planters, Hoosier Grain Drills, Coquilard Wagons, Dain Feed Grinders, Oliver Plows, etc. Only the best class of goods is handled by Mr. Stevens, who has ever adhered to the principle of dealing straight forwardly, making reasonable prices and supplying his patrons with vehicles and implements which he can recommend and warrant in every respect. Mr. Stevens, who is well and favorably known throughout this section as a reliable business man, has been established in this branch of trade at Utica for the past 13 years and for the last year has also been located in this city. His motto is and has been from the beginning: "that the best is not too good for his customers." With the result of his excellent reputation and patronage.

J. C. Jones.

The above is among the old established and reliable business houses of Newark, having been founded nearly 50 years ago, and conducted by the present proprietor since 1884. Mr. Jones is manufacturer of tin, copper and sheet iron ware, and dealer in Moser & Wehrle stoves, and repairs, warm air furnaces, mantels, pumps, plows, house furnishing goods, etc. slate and tin roofing being a leading specialty of this popular house. The business premises at No. 12 East Side Square, comprise three floors, each 20x150 feet in area and thoroughly equipped for this branch of business. The stock carried is large and comprehensive—including the productions of some of our leading stove and furnace manufacturers. As a matter of fact, Mr. Jones is noted for handling only the best class of goods, which, combined with exceedingly low prices and honorable business methods, has enlisted for Mr. Jones an excellent patronage and a first class reputation.

Henry O. Norris.

The lumber and building material industry is one of prime importance to the commercial and industrial welfare of Newark and in an industrial review of the city, extended mention should be made of those who guard their interests. Among the prominent concerns in the trade in this section of the state is that of Henry O. Norris (successor to Smith & Norris), established in 1889—the business having been originally founded 45 years ago at the same corner—Fourth and Locust streets. Mr. Norris, who has conducted this enterprise since January 1901, is well and favorably known in commercial circles as a reliable business man and sustains an excellent reputation in the lumber trade. The business premises including warehouse, yards and sheds located at Fourth & Locust streets covers several acres. Mr. Norris is an extensive wholesale and retail dealer in lumber, shingles, doors, sash, glass, lime etc.—in fact everything in the line of high grade building material. Only the best class of products is handled by Mr. Norris, whose long, practical experience in the lumber trade enables him to meet all competition and furnishes patrons not only with the best class of products, but sells at the lowest possible prices and promptly executes all orders.

Clouse & Schaefer.

Among the most fashionable millinery emporiums of Newark is that of Clouse & Schaefer, located at No. 40 North Third street. In fact this is an exclusive millinery establishment conducted upon a high standard of ability and which would be a credit to any city. It is a recognized leader in fashionable millinery—being the first to bring out the prevailing styles and has in its employ a corps of expert and experienced milliners. As a matter of fact the beautiful display of fine pattern hats made by this firm during the season is unsurpassed by any house in this section of the state. The latest Parisian novelties can be seen here to the best advantage, as the house is direct importer of the finest goods obtainable. The firm is patronized by the elite of Newark and vicinity and well merits the success it has won.

The Newark Steam Laundry.

The popular Newark Steam Laundry is centrally located at the corner of Church and Fourth streets. The building utilized for the business contains every facility and convenience, including one of the largest and finest mangles, collars and cuff ironer and the latest perfected machinery and appliances known to the trade, and to be found only in a first class laundry plant. A force of 18 skilled hands is employed in the various departments of the Newark Steam Laundry—which has the reputation for turning out laundry work in a prompt and first class manner. Two delivery wagons are in constant use delivering orders for the city trade—this laundry being patronized by the best class of trade in the city and vicinity. Mr. W. A. Lovett, the proprietor, is an experienced and practical laundryman, whose aim has always been to furnish his patrons with the best class of laundry work at the most reasonable prices. That the people appreciate this is evidenced by the first class patronage which is accorded to the Newark Steam Laundry.

Ball and Ward.

A commercial review of Newark reveals the fact that this city possesses a number of old established and reliable concerns. The above firm composed of Messrs. Lawrence Ball and C. A. Ward conduct the pioneer wagon shop of Newark—established in 1836 and conducted all these years under the same style firm name. In fact this establishment, located on North First and Church street, is a veritable landmark of the city and a sort of guide post for the oldest inhabitants. Messrs. Ball and Ward are manufacturers of carriages and wagons—their productions being noted for durability, artistic designs and general uniform excellence. All kinds of repairing and horse-shoeing is given prompt and efficient attention and all work entrusted to this responsible firm is executed in a first-class manner and all patrons are assured of entire satisfaction in every respect. As an indication that this firm is producing high grade goods we note the fact that Mr. Geo. W. Beall, the well known implement and vehicle dealer, now handles the productions of Messrs. Ball and Ward—finding that they give better satisfaction than outside makes—and at the same time fostering a home industry.

Charles Faro.

It is a fact worthy of note, that the photographic profession enlists in its ranks inventive talent and ability of a high character. This no doubt accounts for the giant strides, that have been made in the development of photography in recent years. The studio of Mr. Charles Faro at 32 North Park Place is worthy of special mention in this issue of the Advocate. The high class of work produced at this popular studio has enlisted for Mr. Faro an excellent patronage, which he justly deserves. Mr. Faro's studio is easy of access—being located on the ground floor, and perfectly equipped with the very best of apparatus and appointments. Mr. Faro has conducted his present enterprise for the past two years and has been engaged in the photographic business here for over 20 years.

The Albany Painless Dentists.

There is no profession in which greater progress has been made during the past decade, than in that of dentistry, and there is certainly no longer any reason for referring to the operating room as a "chamber of horrors" for the use of improved instruments and appliances has done much to eliminate pain from dental operations. The Albany Painless Dentists located on South Side Public Square, affords a striking illustration of a modern equipped dental establishment conducted by skillful and expert dentists, with every aid in the way of the latest improvements and dental appliances. Every branch of dentistry is practiced and all operations performed, are without pain. The Albany Painless Dentists have been established in Newark one year and during that time have gained an excellent reputation for reliable and first class dental work, at uniformly low prices, and for uniform courtesy, which they extend to all patrons.

Arthur N. Banton.

In this commercial review of the city we are pleased to note the fact that it also possesses a first class establishment devoted to electrical supplies construction and repair work. We refer to the establishment of Arthur N. Banton located at 49 North Third street. The high class electrical work furnished by Mr. Banton has won for him the very best of reputation and he stands deservedly high in the estimation of architects, builders and the general public. Mr. Banton, who has been established in this city for the past 8 years is a practical and experienced electrical engineer. Mr. Banton gives prompt and careful attention to all branches of electrical work, carrying in stock at all times a full line of all kinds of electrical supplies. His work—as is attested by the many fine jobs that he has executed in this city and vicinity—is strictly high class and equal to the best electrical work turned out anywhere.

The Newark Real Estate

And Improvement Company. Of the many responsible and prominent real estate agents and conveyancers in Ohio few have been more successful in establishing a reputation for probity and reliability, as few have secured a more enduring hold on public favor and confidence than the Newark Real Estate & Improvement Co., officered by Edward W. Crayton, president; Warren S. Weiant, vice-president; C. C. McGrudder, secretary; C. H. Spencer, treasurer; Carl Norpell, attorney, and L. M. Phillips, manager. E. T. Rugg, J. C. Brennan, and Dr. J. G. Bower are also directors of this company. The officers of the company, which was established in March, 1901, bring to bear that wide range of practical experience and personal knowledge in real estate matters, so essential to the best interests of the public at large. Their facilities and connection are, alike unsurpassed, and the company is a recognized authority upon present and prospective values of city and country property. Intending investors can fully rely upon the soundness of their judgment and the wisdom of their advice in making purchases. They have for sale or exchange some of the most eligible properties for investment purposes, the wide range of the same, as regards location, size, etc., affording both the capitalist with his surplus resources and the man of moderate means in search of a home, equal opportunities for securing just what they most desire. The company, which is incorporated under the laws of the state of Ohio, deals extensively in city and farm property, and is builder and general operator in real estate. The company's office is located at No. 14 North Park Place.

H. D. Munson & Sons.

The above well known and old, reliable piano and organ house was established fifty years ago at Zanesville, and is unquestionably among the largest and leading representatives of the piano and organ trade in the state of Ohio. The firm's Newark branch store is located at No. 27 West Main street, and is under the management of Mr. E. W. Stockdale, a gentleman well and favorably known in musical circles. H. D. Munson & Sons have the sole agency for such high grade pianos as the Knabe, Vose, Behr Bros, Sterling, Blasius and Regent. This house has wide-spread influential connections with some of the largest factories of the country, and is thus enabled to quote, not only the lowest prices, but make inducements and favorable terms to customers that are hard to duplicate.

Wm. Christian & Sons.

This city has long been known for its representative and high class merchant tailoring establishments. Among the leading merchant tailors of Newark is the firm of Wm. Christian and Sons, whose elegant emporium is located at No. 3 South 3rd st. Mr. Wm. Christian has been established for the past 40 years during which time he has gained a first class reputation and developed an excellent patronage. At their salesroom is carried a splendid selection of both domestic and imported suitings, embracing all of the latest and most fashionable patterns and designs also a fine line of gents furnishings. The firm employs the highest skilled labor in their establishment and give their personal supervision to every detail and particular. Patrons of this reliable house are always assured of courteous and honorable treatment—and, last but not least—a perfect fit, first class workmanship and the best value for the money.

City Drug Store.

A commercial review of Newark discloses that this city in its various mercantile emporiums, will compare favorably with any other city of its size in the state. The solidity and reliability of Newark's business houses is unquestioned and the various establishments are conducted in a manner that reflects great credit upon the city and the community in general. Among the popular establishments of the city and one that has the confidence of the public in general, is that of the City Drug Store located on the West Side of the Square. The City Drug Store, which has been established for the last four years is owned and conducted by Mr. C. T. Bricker, a thoroughly qualified pharmacist, and a gentleman who is fully conversant with every feature of the drug trade. The City Drug Store presents a most attractive appearance and is handsomely appointed throughout. It contains everything usually to be found at a first class and up to date drug store, only the purest drugs, and best class of medicines being handled, whilst the prescription laboratory is carefully supervised and all prescriptions and family recipes are carefully and accurately compounded at reasonable prices.

W. J. Henderson.

The plumbing house of W. J. Henderson, located in the Auditorium building carries a full and complete stock of plumbing supplies, such as gas and steam fixtures, wash stands, water closets, sinks, pumps, radiators, etc. Only skilled mechanics are employed and all work is under the personal supervision and direction of Mr. Henderson, who is considered an expert in sanitary engineering and plumbing—this house being also noted for high class tents and awnings, which are made to order. Mr. Henderson enjoys a successful business the direct result of the thorough experience and promptness in executing orders and the practice of honorable methods. This patronage is made up of the very best people of the community requiring superior skill and qualifications to satisfy their demands. Mr. Henderson has been established in this business in this city for the last fifteen years, where his connections are of the most favorable kind, because of the popularity and esteem in which he is held.

George L. Miller.

One of the show places among the sights of Newark is the establishment of George Miller, florist and seedsmen, whose beautiful horticultural exhibit is found at 12 East Park Place, where are displayed the varied products of his extensive green houses located at corner Cedar and Indiana sts. a plant that has 25,000 square feet under glass. Mr. Miller grows plants and flowers of all descriptions from the rarest to the ordinary kind, and is prepared at all seasons to furnish floral decorations of any sort, made in pieces, baskets of blooms, boutonnieres, or bouquets of any required flower at prices in keeping with the times. Mr.

Miller devotes special attention and prompt and efficient service to decoration of funerals and social functions, and the order can not be too elaborate nor so small as to tax his facilities, nor so neglected by him. Because of his exceptional capacity for the production of floral and horticultural supplies, moderate prices and uniform courtesy to every customer, Mr. Miller has risen to be the chief florist of Newark and his methods daily enhance that prestige and steadily broadens his popularity in the community wherein he thrives.

O. S. Gilbert.

Among the enterprises that flourish in Newark's busy mercantile community one of especial importance is that of O. S. Gilbert, a notable establishment in more than the sense of its commercial size and scope, because its growth suggests the culture and intelligence of the people who buy its wares. This house with spacious salesroom at No. 27 West Main st., carries a splendid selection of high grade musical instruments—including violins, guitars, banjos, mandolins, in fact everything in the line of stringed instruments and musical merchandise, including sheet and book music, strings, repair stuff, etc. Tuning of pianos and organs is given prompt and efficient attention and in fact all of the departments of a first class musical emporium are intelligently supervised. Every instrument sold by Mr. Gilbert is sold under a guarantee at a fair and reasonable price—and the buyer's money is sure to get here the most it can anywhere in genuine music value. Mr. Gilbert has been prominent in the music trade for many years and is accounted as is his house, among the progressive elements of Newark's mercantile supremacy.

Roe Emerson.

Among the leading fashionable emporiums of Newark the establishment of Mr. Roe Emerson located at corner Third and Main streets, is prominently deserving of mention. It is the center of a brisk and active trade and its popularity is attested by the large number of customers, who patronize the house. Mr. Emerson is a thoroughly experienced business man and from the start he gained an enviable reputation for the superior quality of his goods and his fair and liberal prices. For strictly fine clothing, hats, men's and boys furnishings retained at most moderate prices, this house gives, the greatest satisfaction, and secures to the public the best value for its money. The stock carried by this house has been selected with great care and embraces a full assortment of men's, youths', boys' and children's clothing, hats, caps and men's furnishings. In fact, it is filled to repletion with one of the largest stocks of fine clothing, suitable for all ages and purposes; and of which each and every garment is warranted perfect as regards material, fit, finish and workmanship. Mr. Emerson has resided in this city for about twenty years and is eminently respected in commercial and social circles. In 1887, Mr. Roe Emerson embarked in the clothing business on the East Side of Square, at which time he occupied but one room and had but one sales man; and as a consequence of careful handling of only the better grades of well made clothing his business grew necessitating more commodious quarters. He removed to the South Side where he occupied three floors. Three years ago Mr. Emerson opened the popular store on the corner of 3rd and Main, now known as the "Emerson Corner". This store is demanding his entire attention, consequently he has decided to close out his business on the South Side, and as a result the building has been leased for other business, possession to be given April first, after which time the entire force will be centered at the corner store. The large stock of clothing and furnishings at the South Side store will be closed out regardless of cost.

Foster & Teaff.

A good plumbing establishment is an absolute necessity in all well regulated communities—for, upon the skill and knowledge of the plumber, the health and happiness of many of the inhabitants daily depend. A safe and reliable plumbing establishment is consequently a necessity and at the same time a boon to the community. An establishment of this character, owned and conducted by thoroughly practical and experienced plumbers, is that of Foster & Teaff at the corner of Main and Fourth streets, connected by new phone 38. Their facilities for executing all contracts in a prompt and first class manner are exceptional and have been tested on more than one occasion and always with the best results. The firm, established four years ago, is composed of Chas. Foster and Stewart Teaff, both practical and experienced plumbers. They give conscientious attention to all branches of the business, including sanitary plumbing, gas fitting, steam and hot water heating, etc., carrying in stock a full and complete line of plumbers' supplies and gas fixtures of all kinds.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but are sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor, general debility.

How are they expelled? By Hood's Sarsaparilla which also builds up the system that has suffered from them.

It is the best medicine for all humors.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES.

The literary exercises of Friday opened with a song by the school. The paraphrase by Emma Gault was excellent. The reading by Florence Miller was enjoyed. The story by Edna Norman was well written and enjoyed by the audience. The biography by Mary Harrison was very good. The instrumental solo by Will Reynolds (cornet) and Frank Reynolds (trombone). Prof. Reynolds accompanied them on the piano. Two excellent sections were rendered. An interesting article was read by Charlotte Neal. The biography by Lulu Barrick was well written and distinctly read in an oration by Wm. Lumm was well delivered. The current events by Mabel Phillips were thoroughly appreciated. Among the visitors present were Misses Rose MacClain, Ethel Ross, Pansy Stewart, Bee Tracy, Cora Duncan, Maude Lyda, Olive Norman, Grace Gorby, Aurelia Irvine, Mabel Swartz, Roxie Allen, Goldie Bournier, Bessie Brooke, Messrs. Kibler, Henry Johns and Clyde Crilly.

The Juniors are now rehearsing for a comedy entitled "The Obstinate Family" to be given the latter part of February. The following cast has been selected:

Mr. Harwood, Harford's father-in-law.....Harvey Alexander
Mrs. Harwood, Harford's mother-in-law.....Ethel Beecher
Henry Harford.....Norton Beecher
Jessie Harford, his wife.....Musa Beall
James Harford's servant.....George Harrington
Lucy, a servant.....Myrtle Miller
The rehearsals are under the able management of Miss King, and "The Obstinate Family" bids fair to be one of the hits of the season. The price of admission is 25 cents for reserved seats and 15 cents for side sections.

Superintendent Townsend is getting together a collection of catalogues mostly illustrated, of a number of famous academies of this country. These will be put in the charge of Miss Avery.

Wednesday, January 29 is to be observed in all schools as McKinley Memorial Day, at which time the teachers are authorized to receive from any pupils contributions for the McKinley National Monument at Canton.

Homer Jones, who injured his eye, has returned to school.

Helen Graff presided at the piano in chapel during the past week.

Inez Redman has withdrawn from the Junior class on account of ill health.

The Senior class meet Thursday. Arrangements were made for a class to be given next week. However the arrangements were made too soon as the faculty immediately objected to the step taken. Now the Seniors are trying to devise another plan to raise money.

Prof. and Mrs. Childs, Miss Moore and Miss Jones attended Prof. Crane's lecture at Granville Saturday night.

Fatal Blow. Cincinnati, Jan. 27.—August Stagg died from the effects of a blow administered with a wagon wheel spoke by Michael Rieger, a saloonist. Stagg's daughter was domestic in Rieger's family. Stagg claimed that his daughter had been insulted by Rieger and he wanted him to apologize. Rieger in ejecting Stagg from his saloon struck him with a spoke. Rieger was arrested charged with murder.

Railway Denial. Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—W. H. Brown, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad, emphatically denied the published story that the Pennsylvania was about to establish a line of steamers from Montauk Point, L. I., to Montford Haven, England. The story said that the company intended running its trains through the proposed tunnel at New York and across Long Island to Montauk Point.

To Be Moved to Cincinnati. Cincinnati, Jan. 27.—Word has been received here from New York that W. J. Murphy has been made general manager of the Alabama Great Southern railway and that the general offices of that road will be removed from Washington to Cincinnati. Murphy still remains as general manager of the Queen and Crescent route, of which the Alabama Great Southern is a part from Chattanooga to Meridian, Miss., but heretofore the latter has been under the separate management of Frank S. Cannon.

WAR REVENUE

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE CONSIDERING REDUCTION.

Beer and Tea Interests Heard—Cuban Planters and Others to be Given a Hearing.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The senate will devote its principal attention this week to the Philippine tariff bill. It is the purpose of Senator Lodge, who is in charge of the bill, to keep it before the senate persistently until it is disposed of. He does not count on final action for some time. It is not the present purpose of the friends of the bill to debate it, but the attacks which will be made on it and upon the entire administration of Philippine affairs will bring replies from many of the Republican senators. It is understood that a majority of the senators on the Democratic side of the chamber will be heard before the bill is passed. Senator Lodge will seek the earliest opportunity to have the amendments recommended by his committee formally adopted, but probably will not press these when senators are prepared to proceed with set speeches. Senator Nelson will take advantage of every chance to have the bill creating a department of commerce considered, with the hope of securing action upon it during the week if possible.

In the house the anti-oleomargarine bill and the Hill bill for the exchangeability of gold and silver will be taken up before long. Thus far no exact time has been fixed for either of these measures, and the other bills will take their chances as opportunity presents itself. There promises to be considerable time to spare during the week, as there are no appropriation bills ready to fill the gap when bills of a general nature are lacking.

The chief interest of the week centers in the opening of hearings by the ways and means committee on the reduction of war revenue taxes. The committee gives this day to this subject, hearing the beer and the tea interests. On Tuesday the committee returns to the subject of Cuban reciprocity, hearing more of the representatives of beet sugar, and also several Cuban planters who have come to the United States to present their view of the case.

MONKS PERISH

In a Fire That Destroyed Their Monastery—Thirty Victims. Vienna, Jan. 27.—The newspapers of Athens report that the celebrated St. Paul's monastery on Mount Athos was burned last Thursday night. The prior and nine monks perished and 20 others were seriously injured. The occupants of the monastery were sleeping when the fire broke out and the monastery itself was damaged to the extent of $80,000.

Preparing For Henry. New York, Jan. 27.—Representatives of the various German societies of New York city met to further consider plans for the reception of Prince Henry. It was decided that there should be a torchlight procession on the evening of Feb. 26, the same evening on which the newspaper men of the country will meet the prince at dinner. It was announced that Dr. Von Holleben had given his sanction to the plan. It is stated that more than 3,000 marchers will be in line, and Prince Henry will review the parade from the building of the Arion society.

Carnegie Libraries in Mexico. Monterey, Mexico, Jan. 27.—If the efforts now being made by United States Consul General Philip C. Hanna are successful, $4,000,000 of Andrew Carnegie's wealth will be used in the establishment of libraries in Mexico. Of this amount one-fourth is planned to be used in the establishment of a magnificent library in Monterey. The plan contemplates the expenditure of the remaining $3,000,000 in the establishment of libraries at Chihuahua, Durango, Tampico, Torreon and San Luis Potosi.

Axed His Wife. Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 27.—George Rakes, local turf man, fatally assaulted his wife with an ax, carving her head and face to an unrecognizable mass. Her skull was penetrated half a dozen times. She was attempting to leave on a visit to her parents when the husband assaulted her. He escaped on a freight train, but every town west has been notified. There is a strong feeling here against the murderer and mob violence is being freely advocated.

Century Thank Offering. New York, Jan. 27.—Children from 65 Sunday schools of this city assembled in Carnegie hall, completely filling the great auditorium. The meeting was in the interests of the Twentieth Century thank-offering fund. Bishop Andrews made an address. Addresses were also made by several Methodist Episcopal clergymen. Of the $1,000,000 fund which is to be raised $620,000 has been taken in or pledged.

Manager Nevins Dead. Los Angeles, Jan. 27.—W. G. Nevins, general manager of the Southern California, San Joaquin Valley and the Santa Fe Pacific railway systems, died suddenly Sunday.

The most certain feature of a sure thing is uncertainty.

It Takes a Remedy of Uncommon Merit to Draw the Unqualified Praise of a Successful Practitioner.

Dr. J. W. Bates of Corfu, N. Y., states: "A most remarkable case has come under my hands of late and has fully convinced me of the wonderful power of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills over diseases of the nerves."

"A young lady who was treated for over two years for epilepsy by two doctors was given up to die. I found that her sickness was not epilepsy, but nervous troubles, due to menstrual derangements, and prescribed four of Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills a day, after meals and at bed-time. Since that time she has not had a single bad spell. Her health has rapidly improved, and I do not hesitate to state that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills have saved her life and restored her to health."

Mrs. Fawcett of Marietta St., St. Charles, Mo., says: "I have used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and can recommend them to others as a good sound reliable nerve and general tonic. When I got the box of the Pills I was complaining of nervous weakness and pain through the shoulders—rheumatic in type—digestion not over good as usual. The effect of the medicine has been very satisfactory indeed. So marked comfort I can conscientiously say they are, and what they are represented to be. As my advanced age I feel I am getting all the benefit possible."

Mrs. M. J. Hubbard of Railroad Avenue, Sistersville, W. Va., says: "I like Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. I was nervous, excitable, unable to sleep, I had not taken the medicine long when my nerves were steady and strong—my physical strength and energy back and my sleep sound and natural."

See that the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase are on every box. Price 50 cents a box—Six boxes for $2.50. Manufactured by Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

FIND THE YOUNG MAN.

AMUSEMENTS.

With "The Great White Diamond" and a cast as brilliant as the diamond itself there is prosperity in store for the patrons of the Auditorium tonight. There is the sensation "swing for life" and the "human pendulum" to attract those who love dash and daring on the stage. The other mechanical effects are marvelous.

"Peaceful Valley."

One of the most charming of the purely quaint and original order of plays, "Peaceful Valley," as announced for presentation at the Auditorium Thursday night, Jan. 30. Not only is this play a clean diction, pure in sentiment and story, with a plot of interest and strongly drawn characters, but the performance of its principal character, Hosea Howe, by Alden Bass lends to the work of the author an additional charm. Mr. Bass is an actor who draws his character from nature's types after having studied carefully what manner of man he is called upon to portray and in this instance, so well has he fulfilled that his auditors lose all sight of the paint and powder of the actor, and the tinsel of the scene, and can see nothing but the New England boy, homely of speech and manner, and yet so tenacious of purpose, and honesty, withal, that he is at once quite lovable, and to be admired. His speech is full of quiet wit, unvarnished truth, homely simile; a type of character indigenous to the rocky hills of New England. Not only is Mr. Bass happy in his stellar role, but he has surrounded himself with a number of clever players, among them Miss Polly Stockwell, Miss Louise Sydmore, Susie A. Rogers and William Belfort. All of the scenery for the entire production is carried complete by the organization.

Concert at Taylor Hall Tonight.

Boom For Organized Labor.

Saturday and Sunday were red letter days for unionism in Newark. Mr. Jasper Clark, International President of the Team Drivers' Union of North America, made one of the best union labor speeches at Labor Hall last Saturday evening that was ever made in our city. Everyone who heard it says so and the open meeting was largely attended. The meeting was in the interest of the two Teamsters' Unions No. 2-8 and 329 of our city. A great many have said when can we get Mr. Clark to talk for us again. The advice and counsel given by Mr. Clark was wholesome and good, and was grandly received by the members of the two unions and those who did not belong to them.

Mr. Clark says that the labels and buttons used by the members of the Teamsters' Union are duly registered in Ohio, and those who are using them and are not in good standing in their local unions had better return them to the Financial Secretary and avoid trouble, for they are not their property. May every success attend Mr. Clark in his grand work, is the wish of every one present.

American's Papers Seized.

Paris, Jan. 27.—At the request of the British government the police of this city have searched the domicile here of Charles Bright, the American engineer, who was arrested in London Jan. 22, charged with concealing $100,000 of his assets in connection with bankruptcy proceedings, and have seized four trunks containing documents and negotiable securities.

PAUL KRUGER

Is Soon to Visit United States—Boer Leader Captured—South African War News.

Pretoria, Jan. 27.—Colonel Wilson captured 20 Boers near Frankfort, in Orange River Colony, last Saturday. He was preparing at dawn the next day to move away with his captives, when a superior force of Boers made a desperate effort to recapture the prisoners. A hot fight ensued, in which all but three of the prisoners escaped, and in which a few men were killed and wounded on both sides.

Boer Leader Captured.

London, Jan. 27.—A report sent by Lord Kitchener, in Johannesburg, tells of the important capture of General B. Viljoen, in the neighborhood of Lydenburg, Transvaal colony, as well as the captures of small parties of Boers elsewhere.

Kruger Coming.

Brussels, Jan. 27.—Mr. Kruger has received fresh invitations from Chicago, New York and Philadelphia to visit those cities, and he will probably start upon an American tour next April.

Two Boys Murdered.

Knoxville, Jan. 27.—Sheriff Agee brought from Bridgeport, Ala., and confined in jail at Jackson, Tenn., Silas McNeely, a half-breed 18-year-old boy, who is charged with complicity in the murder of Mynatt and Wagner Hatmaker, aged 11 and 14 years. Marlon Wilson, 14, is in jail charged with the same offense. The Hatmaker boys were fishing, and it is alleged that McNeely and Wilson, in trying to take their fish from them, murdered the two boys, their dead bodies being found with a number of bruises on them.

Weakening of the Alliance.

Vienna, Jan. 27.—The announcement that the heir presumptive to the Austrian throne, Archduke Franz Ferdinand, will go to St. Petersburg Feb. 2 to present himself to the czar in his new capacity of a general of Russian cavalry, is much commented upon in the light of the alleged weakening of the triple alliance, which, it is supposed, led to Prince Henry's approaching visit to the United States, and the idea of a rapprochement between Russia and Austria as a counter demonstration to Germany's action.

Result of a Storm.

Port Townsend, Wash., Jan. 27.—The first boat down from the straits for two days arrived here, and reports Friday's storm as doing much damage at small towns and to farms. At Port Angeles a boathouse was carried away and one or two small wharves were wrecked. G. M. Lauridson lost much property, and in an effort to save his goods had both legs broken. The Port Angeles water supply is cut off on account of the waterworks being frozen.

Cleveland, Jan. 27.—At many of the churches of Cleveland special McKinley memorial services were held on Sunday. In some of the churches where no special services were held the life of the late president was eulogized by the ministers in prayers to their sermons and by incidental mention. Special collections for the McKinley memorial were also taken at many of the churches.

Suicide of a Traveling Man.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—Max Waldman, 32, traveling salesman of Cincinnati, hanged himself in his room at the Neil House in this city. It is believed he was despondent over financial matters. Waldman traveled through Ohio and made this his headquarters. He leaves a young wife.

He Killed Himself.

Sofia, Jan. 27.—Diko Joseph, a politician and lawyer and the editor of the newspaper Svet, committed suicide after his arrest in connection with a series of thefts of postage stamps from the government printing department, involving a loss to the state of $50,000.

POPULACE CHILLY

PRINCE OF WALES' VISIT TO BERLIN A FROST.

Emperor, However, is Doing His Best
German Editors Show Irritation
Over the Situation.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—The day passed without any disrespect being shown to the Prince of Wales, who arrived here to represent King Edward at the celebration of the anniversary of the birth of Emperor William. The people of Germany have a too deeply abiding respect for royal personages and are too thoroughly polished to ever fear at them. But in a city where the lifting of one's hat is as universal as ordinary civility, it is singular to see the passing crowds with never a hat raised, and to hear no murmur of applause. While receiving the most elaborate attentions from the family of Emperor William and from German officialdom, the Prince of Wales must feel the chilling attitude of the German public. Almost all the newspapers refrain from editorial comment on his visit.

Emperor William, in his speech toasting King Edward at the military luncheon in the barracks of the First Royal dragoons, touchingly referred to the death of Queen Victoria and to the wonderful colonial tour of Prince of Wales as exemplifying the greatness and the extent of the British empire. He invited the company to drink to the health of the Prince of Wales as the representative of the British army, to which toast the Prince of Wales suitably responded.

The press shows irritation over the British attempts to throw suspicion on the policy entertained towards the United States by Germany before the outbreak of Spanish-American war. Nearly all the German newspapers regard these alleged attempts in the same light as does the Deutsche Tages Zeitung. Dwelling upon the motives which actuated the interpellation of Mr. Henry Norman in the British house of commons Jan. 20, the paper says: "In the London reports cabled to New York it is alleged that Germany was the instigator of a plan to bring about intervention by the European powers against the United States. This is a direct blow in the face of truth. But what of it? It might, perhaps, on the verge of Prince Henry's visit, create ill feelings in the United States, in which case the object underlying Mr. Norman's interpellation and the answer thereto of Lord Cranborne, as well as the inventions sent abroad by English newspaper agencies, would be fulfilled."

The National Zeitung concludes a page editorial on the friendship between the United States and Germany in these words: "The only object of the visit of Prince Henry to the United States is the cultivation of this sentiment. The German emperor could give the United States no better proof of the feelings and sentiments animating him and the German people, in regard to the greatness and development of the Union as a civilizing power, than in sending his brother there. Prince Henry goes, as it were, as the interpreter of Germany's friendship for the United States."

Stock Suffering.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 27.—Nebraska is suffering from below zero weather. A stiff north wind blew across the state and intensified the disagreeable temperature. The weather was generally clear and the sun shone. None of the railroad lines were entirely blocked, although on many of the branch lines it was found necessary to use snow plows. Trains from the west were from one to six hours late. Reports from the ranges, where the temperature is said to have fallen to 25 below, indicate considerable suffering to live stock.

Found Treasures.

Peking, Jan. 27.—Chinese officials have found treasure to the value of over 100,000,000 taels in gold and silver, which was buried before the court fled from Peking. The court has granted 5,000,000 taels annually to Yuan Shi Kai, viceroy of Chi Li, for the maintenance of an army of 100,000 men in Chi Li province. Yuan Shi Kai has been given practical control of the army and navy of China, and proposes engaging Japanese instructors for the army and British instructors for navy.

Miss Stone Located.

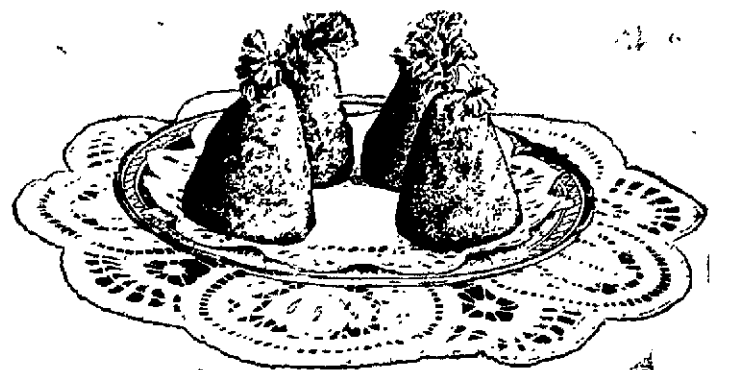

Djuma, European Turkey, Jan. 27.—Miss Stone, the captive American missionary, and her companion, Mme. Tsilka, have been located near Yapak, in the vicinity of the frontier. The American delegates conducting the negotiations for the release of the captives have arrived at Banisko, about 50 miles southeast of Djuma, and will probably pay over the ransom money. The infant daughter of Mrs. Tsilka has been christened Elmika.

Government Boat Fired On.

Panama, Colombia, Jan. 27.—A small gasoline launch belonging to the government and named the General Campo, bearing important dispatches for the government General Castro, was sighted by the revolutionary fleet near Rio Grand, off the coast of Agua Dulce, southwest of Panama. Two shots were fired at the General Campo from the revolutionary gunboat Padilla, and the former was obliged to return here.

LIBERAL PARTY

Organized at Cincinnati by Representatives from all Parts of the Country—The Platform.

BOWLING

Everett Players Won Saturday Night. Final Series to be Played on February 8th.

Cincinnati, Jan. 27.—The National Liberal party was organized here by representatives from all parts of the country. The preamble to the new constitution that was adopted declares for the separation of church and state to the extent of abolishing chaplains in the army and navy, executive bodies and all public institutions, the taxation of church property and abandonment of Sabbath observance. The National Liberal party is the amalgamation for political purposes of free thinkers, and it is more distinctly in politics than the American Secular Union. The temporary organization, formed at Buffalo last October with T. J. Bowles of Munich, Ind., as president and W. F. Jamison of Cincinnati as secretary, is in charge of the national convention.

Married by Phonograph.

Oswego, O., Jan. 27.—Miss Nellie Stone of Ottawa, O., and J. F. Duncan of Oswego were married here by phonograph. The bride came to Oswego, and the house she was in was quarantined for smallpox. A phonograph was procured, the spoke the wedding vow in it and the machine was taken to the health officer and disinfectant. The groom appeared before a minister and answered the usual questions, after which the machine spoke, reproducing the voice of the young woman. The minister then pronounced them man and wife.

The Mexican National Board of Health reports in its last bulletin that since 1888, when the Pasteur treatment of hydrophobia was introduced there, 4,000 persons had been treated, with a total mortality of only 2 per cent.

The second of the series of three games between the glass pressers of Heisey's and the blowers of Everett's resulted in the latter team winning two out of three games.

The teams will play the final games Saturday evening, February 8th, at the Brunswick alleys, the losers to pay for an oyster supper for the winners.

The scores:

| HEISEY. | | EVERETT. | |
|----------|-----|----------|-----|
| Kelly | 168 | 121 | 119 |
| Oldfield | 145 | 163 | 141 |
| Reizer | 132 | 178 | 124 |
| Monday | 144 | 145 | 151 |
| Powell | 139 | 145 | 126 |
| Totals | 715 | 757 | 674 |

Rivers Rising.

Barboursville, W. Va., Jan. 27.—The mud river boom at this point broke this morning. It held thousands of logs and ties that floated into the Guyan. All the rivers in this locality are rising rapidly from the heavy downpour of rain last night.

AT HIS BENCH

Mr. John Tyhurst Stricken Monday Morning With Serious Attack of Neuralgia of the Heart.

Mr. John Tyhurst, the veteran shoe maker was suddenly stricken with excruciating pains in the left side, while sitting at his bench in his shop on West Church street, Monday morning, and he rapidly grew worse, until he lost consciousness.

Assistance was soon at hand and for a time it was thought that Mr. Tyhurst had answered the last summons. However, he rallied upon the administration of stimulants, and was taken to his home on Eleventh street in a cab, where he is in a very weak condition during the afternoon.

The physician said the attack was one of neuralgia of the heart, and at Mr. Tyhurst's age, 75 years, is very dangerous. It is the first time that he has ever had such an attack, leaving home in the morning in his usual health.

Didn't Hear Train.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 27.—Fried and August Nasack, brothers, of DelRay, near here, were run down by a Michigan Central train near Springwells avenue, about 6:30 this morning. Fried was literally cut to pieces, while the brother lies in Emergency Hospital with a badly fractured left leg, a bruised body and several abrasions on his face and arm. It is thought he will recover. The men were walking west with their ears muffled and did not hear the train. Nasack leaves four children.

IN OLDEN TIMES.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Company.

AT BRIDGEPORT

The Death of Richard Hendershot, Former Member of Newark Fire Department, Died.

Mr. Richard Hendershot, formerly a well known resident of this city, but who for some years has been residing in Bridgeport, O., where he was employed on a street railroad, as a motorman, died at his home in that place on Saturday after a long illness of Bright's disease of the kidneys. The deceased was a one time member of the fire department and also served on the police force. He leaves a widow and one son and one daughter by a former wife, to mourn his death, besides his brother, Frank, who resides in this city. He was aged about 48 years. The remains will probably be interred in the cemetery at Bridgeport.

A prudish woman may tell falsehoods, because the naked truth shocks her.

Fine House Burned.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 27.—The elegant country house of Col. Robert H. Browne at Grape Island, burned this morning. It caught while the family was asleep. The Colonel climbed over a porch roof and escaped. The son jumped from a window and broke his ankle. The house and contents were totally destroyed; loss $20,000.

From a mother's point of view, the naughty child takes after after its father.

Goods Well Bought are Half Sold.

Mr. Prout and Fred King have gone east with the "Central Ohio Shoe Buyers Syndicate" to purchase stock for spring.

They pay cash and buy in case lots direct from the factories, thereby securing values not usually found among retailers. This is Mr. King's first trip with the Syndicate.

Street Car Strike.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 27.—The street car company issued a notice this morning giving the strikers until Wednesday to return to work. The strike leaders are holding meetings daily to keep the men in line. There are no prospects of a settlement, the company again refusing to arbitrate.

CAPTURED BOERS.

London, Jan. 27.—The following official dispatch from Johannesburg was received at the war office today: "Plumer reports that with Colonel's Pultene's and Colville's columns he has captured 36 Boers after a long advance through a difficult country between Spitzkop and Castrol's Nek (Transvaal)."

People who live on tick seem to be immensely tickled about it.
